The Accident to Henry Ford.
Why Save the Chinese?
"News" of Coolidge Plans.

THE WORLD is shocked by news of the accident to Henry Ford, who went off a high bank in a small automobile coach, the car rolling over twice or three times, with him in it.

GREAT HOSTILITY has been expressed against Mr. Ford because of severe competition that stores established by him for his workmen have given to other stores.

THE FACT that, after working thirty-eight hours there, Mr. Ford was taken to his hospital "for minor operation" worries his friends.

A well-known surgeon suggests that the belated trip to the hospital might indicate an operation for fracture of the skull, such lesions often remaining undetected for a considerable time.

IN SPITE of Mr. Ford's great wealth and vast interests, the fact that he and his family own 100 per cent. of his enterprises in the United States makes the widespread anxiety concerning Mr. Ford's condition purely a matter of personal friendship and sympathy.

There is, therefore, no financial interest "involved" as some have said. Please turn to Page 12, Column 3.

RADIO STATIONS MUST BE CUT, BOARD DECIDES

Washington, March 31 (A.P.)—Summing up the testimony given this far at the Federal Radio Commission hearings to find a solution of the present radio situation, Commissioner O. H. Caldwell announced today it all led to one conclusion: that the "number of stations has got to be cut down."

He said all other "radio of the air" for the commission had been given by almost unanimous agreement in favor of the existing program.

"You have opposed the expansion of the broadcast band," he said, "and also opposed the reduction of frequency separation between wave lengths."

"You have also stressed the importance of power and stations which apply for increased power must realize they are taking up a large section of the country on one wave length. You also have directly advised against the reduction of time between stations."

"Now if all these recommendations are to be followed by the commission there is nothing left to be done to improve the situation except the number of stations is curtailed."

GLOBE GUARD OVER FORD IN HOSPITAL

Detroit, March 31 (A.P.)—Lying in his own big hospital guarded and surrounded by all the secrecy made possible by a fortune accounted the world's greatest, and complete dominion over vast areas and armies of men, Henry Ford today was reported recovering from injuries received last Sunday night when the coupe of his own manufacture in which he was riding along was forced from the road by a larger closed car.

The Ford organization discreetly reports that the 64-year-old automobile manufacturer was the victim of a deliberate attempt to take his life.

In the first authoritative statement from any Ford source, Harry H. Bennett, chief of the Ford investigators, said today that he was satisfied no attempt was made deliberately to crowd Mr. Ford off the road and that the accident was caused by a careless driver, either driving with an arm around a girl companion or a little the worse for liquor.

He said that the Ford investigators were working along the lines of a possible attempt to take Mr. Ford's life and that it was believed the driver of the automobile which struck the Ford coupe was a man of about 30 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighing about 150 pounds.

Henry Ford's 'Safest Drive' Where Foes Almost Killed Him And His Photo on Bay State Ice

AS FORDS MIGHT HAVE LOOKED IN 1860 Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford when he drove old Dobbin in an "1860 patent" at Dearborn. Note their make up, both designed for the parts they played in the pageant.

AUTO KING'S MOST PERILOUS DRIVE
Drawing by Staff Artist Kolliker of the Boston Evening American of the mishap which almost proved fatal when enemies forced Ford off road.

WHEN HE GLIDED OVER THE ICE Henry Ford photographed at South Sudbury in skating costume. The last serious injury was suffered on the ice while skating at Riverton, near Detroit, several years ago.

"It is at any time we had thought someone was intentionally trying to injure Mr. Ford we would have asked the aid of the Detroit police immediately," said Bennett.

Previously the Federal Department of Justice, heads of the Detroit police force, the state police and the federal reserve service had said that they were investigating it. But they were asked to help.

The Detroit police department, comparatively small, has investigated the case and since action, as a result may be expected within a few days, it was asked today.

A DISTRESSING DILEMMA—Manton's proposal had left in its wake a terrific conflict of loyalties. The Rosalind, with a thousand thanks and sent her home pumbed. Her soul cried out for the exquisite things Samuel Manton's money could buy. Hours later, it seemed, she was aroused by Helen's voice. "Hurry and dress, dear; Roger is here, and he has a surprise for you." The sound of the same man's voice as she was learning to love sent tremors through her.

"SURPRISE"—Helen came hurrying into the room. "The world is the matter, child?" she asked. Rosalind looked up at her eyes. "It's nothing," she said. "I'm all right." Helen's confusion she hurriedly dressed. Roger's greeting was whole-hearted. Helen was burning with curiosity about the surprise. "Well," said Roger, "it's just this. I've been promoted in Samuel Mantion's office—a chance any man would give his right arm for. What do you think? He'll get me a pair and pain shot through Rosalind's heart. I rushed to Roger and threw my arms around his neck, don't do it, don't do it, please!"

AN INTERRUPTED DINNER — Roger stepped back in dismay. "What do you mean?" he asked in amazement. "Not that you should be particularly interested in my success, but I thought you might like to know," he added lamely. Rosalind could not trust herself to answer. Helen gazed at her in surprise. "Well," said Roger tentatively, "I guess I must bid you ladies a good evening." Then he left the room. Rosalind buried her head in her arms, shaking with sobs.

GESTURE — The girl's delicate frame shook with emotion. Suddenly she lifted her head and looked around wildly for Roger. A click told her he was at the front door. Leaping to her feet she rushed to the vestibule, drew his head down and kissed him. Continued Tomorrow.

SEIZE MAN WHO SHOT ITALIAN VICE-CONSUL

Bridgeport, Conn., March 31 (A.P.)—Giovanni D'Amadio, who seriously wounded Pasquale De Cicco, Italian vice consul in New Haven yesterday, was captured here today by Sergeant Edward Velen and Detective James Dihan of the New Haven police department.

The prisoner will be brought back to New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., March 31 (A.P.)—Pasquale De Cicco, Italian vice consul here since 1921, lay awaiting between life and death at St. Anthony's hospital today.

De Cicco, who wears the decorations of his country and who distinguished himself both on the field of battle and in the diplomatic service during the World War, was shot at his office by Giovanni D'Amadio, a woodworker and an upholsterer.

A mind disordered by months of brooding, believed by the police to have led D'Amadio to the office of the vice consul and there, with a sawed-off shotgun, he have attempted to slay the representative of the Italian government.

Months ago, D'Amadio tried to have his wife declared insane and commit her to an asylum. He was examined by physicians and when she was found sane he dropped the case. This failure, it is believed, preyed on D'Amadio's mind and the vice consul began to receive threatening letters from him.

There was no evidence of violence, however, until yesterday when D'Amadio appeared in the office of the vice consul and after a five minute conversation pulled the shotgun from under his coat and fired once. Many of his employees fled in terror.

By THE TEST EDITOR.

"This leaves us with the only problem on our hands—at this time—that of the letter. A letter of not more than 300 words, remember, which is to be sent in at the close of the test, along with the Test Pictures.

Anyone can write the sort of letter required for the purpose of this competition, for "the writer" is not required. Subject—"My Favorite Picture, Play—and Why It Is My Favorite."

In filling in the coupon below the Test Picture the contestant is free to use a typewriter, but it is not required to do so. Lead pencil may be preferable to pen and ink, for the reason that on paper of this kind the ink will sometimes blot. There is, however, no rule on this subject, the only requisite being that you write or print plainly.

2 WOMEN ARE OVERCOME BY COAL GAS IN ROXBURY

Mrs. Tina Marshall, 51, of Crawford street, Roxbury, and her friend, Mrs. Anna Palladino, 27, of Hanover street, who was visiting her, were both found unconscious in a bed in the former's home, victims of coal gas poisoning. They were taken to the City Hospital. Their condition is not considered dangerous.

This was a tale of intense jealousy under the Big Top. We were thrilled by the film several weeks ago at Loew's Orpheum Theatre. The young woman whose face is missing was born in a famous city about 240 miles north or east of Boston.

Jail Smuggler Who Shipped Aliens as Dead Men

Hamilton, Ont., March 31 (A.P.)—Coffee have been used to smuggle aliens into the United States, according to testimony given here in the case of Louis Michelowski, convicted on a smuggling charge and sentenced to six months in prison.

The coffee was provided with air vents for their living occupants and were delivered to an American border city within a short time after being placed on board a train here.

Police said that forty foreigners paid Michelowski various sums to land them in the United States by the coffee route.

QUIZ SAPIRO ON HIS WORLD-WIDE SALES PLAN

Detroit, March 31 (A.P.)—World-wide cooperation of growers of staple products was the dream of Aaron Sapiro, he testified today in his $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford confined to a "smuggled" as a result of an automobile crash.

A clash with Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chief Ford counsel, marked the start of cross-examination. The Senator was attempting to learn from Sapiro the intricacies of co-operative marketing organizations.

A short answer from Sapiro, who claims his reputation was injured by an organizer of co-operative articles in the Ford-owned Dearborn Independent, drew a protest from the attorney.

"I am just trying to get this straightened out," he stated.

"And I am trying to help you," was the sharp reply.

Reed asked Sapiro if he had not planned world-wide co-operative associations of wheat, apple, cotton and potato growers. The witness said he would not go so far as to say that he had planned them, but he certainly had hoped for them.

"I always have advocated control of farm products by farmers," said Sapiro.

For the first time during the trial many seats in the courtroom were vacant, interest having suddenly dropped when it became known Henry Ford had suffered an accident while driving a small coupe.

For appearing before the War Finance Corporation at Washington and making trips to New York in the interest of loans for the North-west growers, Sapiro testified, he asked a fee of $5,000. The growers offered him $2,000, however, and he accepted after some correspondence.

Senator Reed read Sapiro's resignation as counsel for the Northwest Wheat Growers' Association, in which the plaintiff referred to "attacks on him because he was a Jew."

The document was dated Dec. 31, 1924.

"Is that association dead or alive?" asked Reed.

"Not dead, because it was taken into the American Wheat Growers' Association, covering a larger territory," said Sapiro.

Reed drew from the witness the admission, however, that after headquarters had been moved to St. Paul from Spokane and the main changed, the Northwest Growers continued to function as a branch under its own name.

Sapiro had questioned Sapiro as to his activities in getting loans for

WRONG DATE ON PAPERS VOIDS WIFE'S SUIT

Mrs. Amelia R. Gluck, wife of Charles F. Gluck, said to be an $18,000 a year official of an insurance company, failed temporarily to get money to obtain a divorce maintenance decree, today, when the papers she filed in Essex County Probate Court were found to be dated improperly.

The Glucks live in Beachcroft Road, Newton, and the wife charges her husband with infidelity.

The wife's petition claims that on Feb. 18, 1927, her husband was guilty of fraud and statute violation and was with another woman.

The date of the signature on the papers is February 16, two days before the alleged offense was committed.

When Mrs. Gluck and her attorney, Thomas Zilinski, appeared before Judge John C. Leggat today, the attorney declared his client had evidence to prove that Gluck left his wife and spent several days at a prominent Back Bay hotel in company with another woman. When the discrepancies in the dates on the papers were noted, Judge Leggat dismissed the petition without prejudice and told the attorney the best method of procedure would be to file another petition with the date in order.

The attorney explained that the signature date was, unfortunately, wrong and offered to file an amended petition, but the court would not allow this.

ADVERTISING REVIEW STIRS INTEREST

The Boston Evening American Review of Current Advertising presents an idea as ingenious and surprising as it is timely. The award each week is a receipted bill for the advertising space selected by the judges. This plan should appeal to the originality of the advertiser. From the economic and educational standpoint, it is a valuable means of advertising. There can be no other outlet for a stimulus of advertising and business, the latter being a condition that New England is always seeking.

"One of the problems of advertising is to judge the effectiveness of advertising appeal. In this plan of the Boston Evening American, an advertiser will receive the judgment of a group of experts. The novelty of the idea ought to encourage advertisers to take advantage of the opportunity to reach the public through the wide circulation of the newspaper.

"It should be of interest not only to the exponents of good advertising and merchandising, but the public as well, which weighs the claim of manufacturing and merchants in making the purchase.

"The Boston Evening American's Prize Review of Current Advertising is a novel and useful plan to create interest in better advertising, and it is to be commended."

RECEIPTED BILL PRIZE.
It's an interesting race with the small classified "Room for Rent" ad standing just as much of a chance to win the decision of the expert judges as the display advertisement of the merchant, banker or organization. The prize in this novel and useful contest is a receipted bill covering the cost of the winning advertisement in the Boston Evening American.

Interesting comments on the at-tempt of the advertisement writers to put forth their best effort to call attention of the products of the concerns for which they are working are coming in to the board of judges personally and to the office of the Boston Evening American.

Comments from students in schools and colleges in which the study of part of the course, show that the students are alert to the significance of the "prize review." Among other things it is providing a means of comparing their judgment with that of the Board of Judges who are to pick the winning advertisement of the novel competition. These judges also welcome the expression of opinion and the comments of individual students or classes in economics, merchandising and advertising analysis and practice.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Society Folk Are Flocking to Pau for Big Hunt.

FORTUNATE PEOPLE, THE William Grosvenors of Providence and Newport. To such as these, possessed of wealth, a keen love of the hunt, enormous popularity and blue-blooded family connections, the plan of two years or so in France, at Pau, is a prospect without equal. They are pulling up stakes in this country and soon go over to Pau—no plans read—for an indefinite stay. And Pau has the snarrest and most famous hunt in all Europe and a villa, adorned by the cream of the cream of several continents.

FREDERICK HENRY PRINCE, the son of that fine old name, is Master of the Pau Hunt, and the Prince migration to the Continent from Providence is an annual task that includes grocers and house and dogs, and keeps Mr. and Mrs. Prince at Pau for several months of each year. "But Grosvenor, old sportsman that he is, will be right in his element at Pau. Mr. Richard C. Curtis (Aunt Grosvenor and Mrs. George Peabody Gardner, Jr. House Grosvenor), are his sisters, and the Grosvenor name being set up on the Continent will be a good and sufficient reason for them to go over frequently. They are fond of sports and is their brother.

THERE WAS MANY A CHERRY HAIL FOR MISS LEONARD Jacob, the former Miss Eleanor Winslow, when she came over to town for the last weekend and took in the World Pictures command at Trinity, where practically the entire upper crust of the town was gathered. Mrs. Jacob was smart in beige wrap and helmet champagne headed in cherry red. The Jacob home is now in New York, following a year or two of living in South America, where Mr. Jacob had business interests.

ANOTHER OF THE GEORGE SCOTT WINSLOW DAUGHTERS, Mrs. Louis B. McCook, Jr. (Katherine Winslow), also married an out-of-town and makes her home in New York. Just now she and her in-laws, the McCooks, are sailing the sea homeward bound from a trip to Morocco. Miss Anna Winslow, third in the set, still unfettered, elicits the carefree, halfhearted existence possible to a young woman of her verse and attainments, alternating the frivolous and business as fancy will.

MISS NELSON CURTIS, JR. and MISS VASSAR PIERCE, BOTH of Milton, are guests at the Hotel Princess in Hamilton, Bermuda. These smart young women are also students, the one formerly Virginia Pierce and the other Dugmar Ladensack, and frequently they journey together for the week's end. Last year they were abroad, doing the Continent by the new method of airship travel, a "hop" from London to Paris, or Vienna, or Brussels.

NO PARTIES OR FESTIVITIES OF ANY SORT WILL BREAK THE professional routine of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn during their short Boston stay. These stars have put thumbs down on any frivolities, as is quite necessary considering the strenuous week and they follow, commencing with the benefit performance for the Boston Dispensary. Highly placed Bostonians who love to promote a good work and so less enjoy seeing their names in sponsor lists are making the usual reservation. In fact, Friday evening at the Opera House will repeat as "those present" the names of the mighty endlessly appearing thus. I hear the advance sale is gratifyingly large.

MISS ELIZABETH OAKES, MISS AGNES MURCHIE and MISS Elizabeth Lyman are Vincentites who lend charm and variety to the "Varieties." Kiddies to Go on Tour of Parks and Zoo

A child who has never been to the zoo! Can you imagine such a thing?

It is a fact, though—there are many kiddies in Boston who have never seen a monkey, a bear or an elephant. And so, the Boston Evening American has made arrangements whereby all these hundreds of little boys and girls are going to the zoo next week in the luxurious buses of the Gray Line Sight Seeing Company. Not only will the youngsters visit the city zoo in Franklin Park for an hour or more but they will also have a dandy ride through Boston's line park system.

Beginning next Monday morning the big buses will pull up at the doors of the various institutions where the little inmates have been confined all winter on their errand of happiness. They will be operated by the regular, careful drivers of the company, all of whom are highly paid for their services.

The schedule for Tuesday includes rides for 125 children at the Home for Deaf-Blind Children, 100 kiddies at Little Wonders Home, 15 children being cared for by Massachusetts Society for the vention of Cruelty to Children, and parts of the city by the Family 130 youngsters gathered from all Welfare Society of Boston.

The Insulated Glenwood is used in cooking demonstrations and domestic science courses by many of the best-known lecturers in the United States.

This is the range the experts use to demonstrate perfect baking

DOMESTIC Science experts who lecture to thousands of housewives have to be very sure of the baking ability of the range they use in their demonstrations. Especially since they have to depend on the oven to bake perfectly without a moment's attention from them during the lecture.

Many of the best known Domestic Science experts have used this new model Glenwood in their talks on Insulated Oven Cooking, and always with splendid success.

But you don't need to be an expert to have things come out just right every time when you have a Glenwood to help you. The Glenwood Insulated Oven is so evenly heated that you can bake just as well at the bottom as at the top. It is so scientifically ventilated you can even broil fish without filling the kitchen with odors. And it is so easily regulated by the Glenwood Robertshaw Oven Heat Control that even a beginner can be sure of perfect results every time. Come in and see it.

That is why intelligent and patriotic Senators and Congressmen insist that the United States have a navy equal to any other; that is, equal to England's.

As to guarding the lanes of the sea for the largest export trade, our navy's business is to protect a country worth 400,000 million dollars, at least four times the valuation of any other land on earth.

To be equal to its task—to be equal to any other navy—ours needs new modern cruisers, new fleet submarines and above all, new EXPANDED AIR FORCE.

The bubble of the disarmament dream is burst. The country looks to the Administration and Congress to complete our armaments.

CONSCIENCE
City Treasurer Frank Brier is abiding faith in the "still small voice of conscience." As an evidence of this he points to the number of taxpayers who anonymously send him money due the city with instructions like this: "Please send this money to the city's conscience fund."

OKAKEYS.
His face wreathed in smiles as he possessed of the happy faculty of retaining a friend once made, FRED BRICK ROBERTSON DOHERTY, theatrical press agent, received his salute. Asked to explain the DOHERTY said: "A piece of pay with the phraseology 'Admit two' has never."

I think this is it—
I think that flowers are em-saries from some bright plane of life quite different from our earthly span of days.
I think the Eternal Spirit peeped through our dark door to whisper,
"Do not be discouraged! Some day you'll wake up in a better world. The Good day you will be free from all this doubt and fear, this pain and toil and stupid, cruel world. You'll find a world all with joy and light. And, as a proof and promise, here are violets."
That's what I really think about flowers.

two sides to the spectrum with which it is to be compared. Identical spectrum means identity of substance.

Thus, if it answers at all, the comet will tell its own secret. But Professor Lemon is not perfect—surely any answer will come.

He only says that the experiment is worth trying, especially with a comet venturing so near. So far only two bright comets have shown the spectrum of carbon monoxide in their tails.

These were the Daniels comet in 1912 and the Neowise comet in 1908. The Pons-Winnecke comet in 1909 either does not contain this gas or the substance of its tail may be too diffused to show it.
